How We Started

How We Started

Amerijet was founded in 1974. The company started with one leased aircraft providing small cargo and passenger flights between the USA and The Bahamas. By 1978, Amerijet was flying overnight courier routes and operating a fleet of Falcon 20. In 1987, Amerijet opened its hub at the Miami International Airport, marking the foundation of what would grow to become the heart of its international presence.

Who We Are Today

With almost 50 years of experience in the cargo industry, Amerijet operates its dedicated freighter fleet of B767 and B757 aircraft from its primary hub at the Miami International Airport to destinations throughout the Caribbean, Mexico, Central America, South America and Europe.

The company provides its service regions with approximately 391 million scheduled service ATKs, plus an additional 842 million ATKs of freighter capacity for long and short-term charter, ACMI and CMI services annually.

Amerijet's global network reaches major cities across the world with seamless and transparent transportation solutions for customers shipping time-sensitive, valuable, hazardous materials, temperature-controlled and other commodity types.

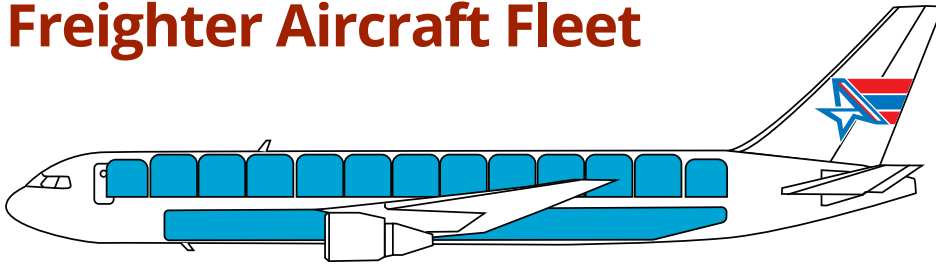

Within the United States and Canada, Amerijet provides full truckload, less-than-truckload and expedited trucking services. In the Caribbean, Mexico, Central America, South America and Europe, Amerijet offers clearance and last-mile delivery for commercial customers across many industries.

Amerijet's primary hub, located at the Miami International Airport, has an import/export facility with over 360,000 square feet (33,500 square meters) and a 40,000 square-foot (3,700 square meters) perishable handling center providing refrigerated and chilled storage to maintain the cold chain integrity of pharmaceuticals and perishables during the transportation process.

The integrated import/export warehouse features automated freight weighing and dimensioning stations, ULD management and by-pass roller systems to maximize handling efficiencies. Advanced monitoring procedures, real-time shipment alerts and cargo tracking provide end-to-end visibility of every shipment.
